NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE FAIR. We find in the last New Hampshire Patriot a list of premiums awarded at the late Fair in that State. Premiums, diplomas and medals were awarded, the highest premium being $50 for ten yokes of County of Cheshire oxen. The best Devon Bull took $12the best heifer $8—the best stallion $20—the best matched horses $10—the best buck $10, &c. The articles were as follows: Devons, Durhams, Ayreshires, Native or Mixed, broad mares, stallions, colts, sheep, swine, poultry of all kinds, farming implements, bread, butter, cheese, sugar and honey, domestic manufactures, corporation manufactures, millinary, family needle work, silver ware and cutlery, machinery, carriages, stoves, copper and tin ware and blacksmithing, boots, shoes and leather, cooper's work and wooden ware, harnesses, furniture, paper, printing, binding, vegetables, fruit, farm buildings, bridges, new inventions, dentistry, daguerreotypes, and miscellaneous. Premiums of $3 and $5 were awarded for best patching and darning. All right, The New Hampshire folks are much more economical than their Southern brethren. Better be "darned" then go in debt for a new pair.

DEPOSITION OF BISHOP IVES.

Bishop Ives, late of the Diocese of North Carolina, was on Friday afternoon last formally deposed by the House of Bishops and Delegates assembled in the City of New York. The sentence of deposition was pronounced by the presiding Bishop, Brownell, of Connecticut, the remaining Bishops standing around during the ceremony. The following is the sentence:

Be it therefore known, that on this 14th day of October, in the year of our Lord, 1853, I, Thomas Church Brownell, D. L., LL. D., by Divine permission Bishop of the Diocese of Connecticut, and presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, with the consent of a majority of the members of the House of Bishops, as hereinafter enumerated. And in the terms of the canon in such case made and provided, do pronounce the said Levi Silliman Ives, D. D., ipso facto deposed, to all intents and purposes, from the office of a Bishop in the Church of God, and from all the rights, privileges, powers and dignities thereunto pertaining. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

The Charleston Mercury states that the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad will be opened on the 1st December, on and after which passengers will be conveyed throughout its entire length. The Atlantic and Lagrange Railroad will be opened about the same time to West Point, which will complete the Railroad communication with Montgomery. The completion of these lines, adds the Mercury, will place Charleston in direct communication with Nashville and Montgomery.

PERSONAL. Among the distinguished persons in attendance on the late Fair we had the pleasure of sceing the Hon. Weldon N. Edwards, Hon. Thomas Ruffin, of Wayne, William K. Lane, Esq. of Wayne, and N. E. Canaday, Esq. of Granville.

The Hon. Thomas L. Clingman passed through this place on yesterday, on his way to Washington City. He was in fine health and spirits.

THE CIRCUS. Robinson's and Eldred's Circus and Menagerie will be here on the 7th and 8th of next month. Mr. Knosher, celebrated for his performance on the bugle, will lead the band.

CONSECRABION OF TWO NEW BISHOPS. The General Episcopal Convention in session at New York, reached a decision in the case of Bishop Ives on Thursday. It was settled by the adoption of a canon designed to meet the exigencies of the case. The course pursued by the Diocese of North Carolina in declaring the Bishopric vacant, after the receipt of Dr. Ive's letter of resignation, and proceeding to the election of a successor, was ratified, the consecratioe of the Bishop elect determined on, and the doctrine established that the abandoning of the communion of the Church by any Bishop, Priest, or Deacon amounts de facto to a deposition.

On Monday last the Rev. Dr. Atkinson, of Maryland, was consecrated to the Episcopate of North Carolina, and the Rev. Dr. Davis, to the Episcopate of South Carolina. The ceremony, which was unusually imposing, took place in St. John's Chapel. Over thirty Bishops, in their robes, two of them English Bishops, were present, the greatest number ever before convened in an American church. Besides these there was a great agray of minor clergy, many of them in surplices.

At the commencement morning prayer was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Hanckell, of S. C., and the Rev. Mr. Mason, of N. C., read the lessons; after which the Rev. Lord Bishop of Fredericton (N. B.) delivered a very appropriate and inspiring sermon. The chanting of the choir at intervals was not the least interesting portion of the ceremony. The Secretary of the House of Bishops, Mr. Balch, read the testimo nials of the Bishops elect, upon which they arose, and made their vows to conform to the doctrines of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States. The formal proceeding of consecration then followed, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Brownell officiating.

THE WAR QUESTION. There is no open war as yet between the Turk and the Muscovite; but peace now hangs on, seemingly, so slender a hair, that we presume not even an honorary member of the Peace Society will be disappointed should we be advised, at any moment, that hostilities have actually begun. War, it seems, has been only half declared by Turkey -that is to say, it has been declared by the Grand Council, but the consent of the Sultan himself is still wanting, to make it a declaration complete. If there is any truth in the multiplicity of rumors coming to us from Constantinople, by telegraph and mail, it will not be long before the issue is made up; for it is difficult to see how the Sultan can resist the clamorous war pressure at home. The declaration of war by the Divan is said to be an effect of this pressure, rather than the result of a deliberate conviction of its actual necessity. The Russian Bear meanwhile is as quiet as a lamb. His voice, lately so loud for war, is now singing the praises of peace and good willbut whether he is sincere or not is another question. England and France are reported to have renewed thir assurances to the Russian Minister at Paris that it must not be expected of them to remain neutral, if hostilities are resorted to. And the augmentation of their respective fleets in the Dardanelles certainly looks as if such assurance was something more than a brutum fulmen. New York Express.

THE STATE FAIR seems to be all the go in our up country exchanges. The Editor of the Observer is chock full of the Fair. We are truly glad to hear of the Fair in so favorable a light. We look upon the whole af-Fair as the brightest era in North Carolina's history, although it has commenced twenty years later than it should. We care not who started it, that person will hereafter be cited as a benefactor to the State. The next annual Exhibition will be twice as brilliant and interesting as the present-take our word for what we say. Wilmington Journal.

We are told that, on the arrival of the European news by the last mail, a private meeting of some exiles, of different countries, took place in this city, and that by their unanimous decision, Major Leonard P. Terzucanowski, formerly aid-de-camp of Gen. Murowslaski, and afterwards commander-in-chief of the French legion in Sicily, was appointed to form in this country a volunteer legion, intended to sail for Constantinople; that they chose him as their chief, their services.

[Correspondence of the Petersburg Democrat.] RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 20, 1853. Hon. A. W. Venable delivered or yesterday the appointed address before the agricultural society, in the presence of a large concourse of auditors. remote position from the speaker's stand enabled me to hear only detached portions of the speech, but the general verdict of those who were more fortunate than myself, is, that it was an effort of much power and eloquence.

Last evening I accepted an invitation, politely tendered by Mr. Smedes, the gentlemanly principal of the St. Mary's Institute, to be present at his soirce. It was one of the richest treats I ever experienced. and, of itself, amply compensated for the hardships of the trip, (which at first were not few.) Such an array of sunny faces, sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks, I have not seen for many a day. Several of the young ladies played on the piano and sang. Their music reflects credit upon their accomplished mas-

The soirce, to which we were invited, was Mr. Smedes' contribution to the Fair, and does honor no less to him than to the State, that claims most of them as its daughters. A good idea this, of Mr.

I spent this morning in a quiet ramble through the streets of the city, and in an examination of its public buildings. Fayetteville street is a minature edition of Pennsylvania avenue, having the capital at one end; by the way a very handsome edifice, and the Governor's mansion at the other. Of this latter structure, candor compels me to say that it is far from creditable. It ought to be pulled down and something tastier and better put in its stead.

The deaf and dumb asylum is also a fine specimen of architecture, and has upwards of fifty unfortunate inmates.

The lunatic assylum deserves rather more than a passing notice. It is now under course of construction, and when finished will be one of the most magnificent edifices of its kind in America. North Carolina has been, up to this time, behind her sister States in having a refuge for her reason-stricken citizens, and probably but for the exertions, if report be correct, of the world-renowned philanthropist, Miss Dix, would have continued to play the laggard in extending this source of comfort to the afflicted. It is said that she made several efforts before the Legislature of the old North State, and failed. Gaining courage from each rebuff, this noble woman continued to urge the expediency, aye, the imperative necessity, for the Legislature to appropriate the required sum, and after repeated efforts, 'she finally succeeded in bringing the vote down almost to a tic. Others would have succumbed under these continued failures, but with the characteristic constancy of her sex in all praiseworthy endeavors, she completed her efforts by a coup d'etat worthy of Tallyrand. Calling on the wife of one of the most prominent members of the Legislature, she pressed her to use her infinence with her husband, in the attempt to get from him the substantial advantage of a speech in support of the scheme, and declared that she would take it as a personal favor if he would comply.

Thelady succeeded, the speech was made, and the noble institution stand s now a monument of its efficacy and of the untiring perseverence of a lofty purpose in the breast of that ornament to her sex and to her kind.

I give this as I heard it, not undertaking to youch for its authenticity. This afternoon there was a trial of speed between a number of fast trotters, on the grounds of the Fair. The time made was good, not, however equal to what was expected.

The crowd will commence dispersing to-morrow, each farmer going home with the determination to do better the next time. Considering that the prestice on which it was gotten up, it is an exhibition doing incalculable credit to the State and its resources. "Old Rip" is wide awake on the subject of agriculture. She is fast progressing, and her sisters must look out or she will outstrip them in the race. If incentives be needed to the sons of Virginia to make their own exhibition worthy of the Old Dominion, they are abundantly furnished in the success which has attended the Carolina Fair and the enthusiasm and activity which it has kindled. A. D. Bs.

FATAL ACCIDENTS. We learn that on Thursday last Lorenzo Miller of Mills' River was accidentally shot by a rifle, the ball entering above one of his hips and lodging in his viscera, from which he died on the following day. It seems that Mr. Oliver Robison who resides in the same neighborhood was shooting at a mark, and that there was a small sapling about midway between where he was standing and the mark, Mr. Miller standing near the sapling; the ball in its passage struck the side of the tree and glanced in the direction of Mr. Miller, penetrating him as we

We also learn that on Sunday last, a small boy son of Joseph T. Bryson who lives beyond Mills River on Bryson's creek, was playing with a pistol, while his parents were absent attending church, which he accidentally discharged, the load entering his abdomen and causing death in a short time.

These accidents should serve as a solemn warning to persons who have occasion to handle fire-arms. Parents, particularly, should be cautious in placing these instruments of death within the reach of their children. Whether the old lady, who said that a gun was dangerous "without lock, stock, or barrel," was correct or not, there is frequently much danger where little cr none is suspected.

More Copper. We have been shown by Mr. William Dickson some fine specimens of Copper Ore, taken some six miles south west of Hillsborough, from a piece of ground leased by a company from Mr. Stubbins. These specimens were taken at the depth of eleven feet, and compare very favorably with some of the best specimens we have seen from the Guilford mines. We understand that a lump of solid ore was recently obtained which weighed two pounds and a half.

We have also seen some good specimens of Copper Ore from a piece of land owned by Mr. Cates, lying in the same direction. The indications as far as investigations have been made, we understand, are highly favorable, and a company are negotiating for a lease of the land with the intention of working it for Copper.

A friend with whom we have conversed in reference to the above facts, and who has been looking into the matter with some interest, says he thinks it will be found that the portion of Orange in which these discoveries have been made, is as rich in Copper Ore as any portion of the State.

Hillsborough Recorder. DEATH OF GEN. CHILDS. We exceedingly regret to earn that information has been received at the War Department, that Gen. Thomas Childs, U. S. A., died at Tampa Bay, Florida, on the 9th inst., of yellow fever. Gen. Childs married in this place, resided here for several years, and was regarded as one of our citizens. He was a brave officer and an estimable man. His services in the Florida and Mexican wars were appreciated by the government and people of the country, and procured him honor and advancement. At the time of his death he was in command of the United States forces in Florida. We, in common with all who knew him, lament the loss which has been sustained in his decease. Alexandria Gazette.

FLORIDA. An election was held throughout this State on the 3d inst., for a chief justice and two associate justices of the supreme court, and for other important local officers. It appears that party lines were strictly adhered to, and that the democracy have generally received an augmented vote over the last congressional election. In the city of St. Augustine and county of St. John's, with a solitary exception, every democratic candidate was successful.

do not pretend to say what Democratic principles are. We presume the country undetstands the principles it has selected for its financial, administrative and executive guides. We wish to say though what kind of men professing democratic principles are worthy, reliable democrats, and what kind are unworthy, unreliable and dishonest

He is not a good democrat who is not willing, under any and all circumstances, to stand by and work for the maintenance of the principles His faith in their rectitude must be deep rooted in his convictions. His determination never to flinch in their advocacy must be as unwavering as the granite hill. His constancy must be so ceaseless and undeviating that no bribery can reach and no personal temptations disturb his purpose.

The man who belongs to the party for the hope of reward from its spoils, either for himself or friends, is no good democrat. The man whose prospects once good for a lucrative office, sees these prospects blighted, and who then flies off from the party on account of his disappointment, is not a good democrat. He has made the mistake to believe the party and principles were or-ganized for his special benefit instead of for the good of the whole.

The man who thinks that the principles of the party may be overlooked in the means resorted to to achieve a political triumph, is not a good democrat. The man who gives more importance to sectional feuds, and refuses to vote with the regularly organized body of the party, is not a good democrat.

As to the policy of party, that must always occupy a second place, and not as some suppose, the first. The policy should recognize every honest move to promote or establish the principles. And the principles should never recognize any stroke of policy that is not entirely honest and honorable. He is no good democrat who permits a personal matter to prevent him from voting for a regular democratic nomince. Nor is he a good one who abuses regularly chosen candidates on personal grounds. In a sentence, to conclude, the good and true democrat adheres to the doctrines of the party, and to any policy not inconsistent with those doctrines. Any other is not to be trusted.

W. & R. R. R. Company. From an advertisement in to-day's issue, and from an editorial from the Wilmington (N. C.) Journal, penned in its usual style of brevity and comprehensiveness, it will be seen that the Wilmingtor and Raleigh Rail Road Company have declared a semi annual dividend of 4 per cent out of their profits for the last six months, besides sinking 35,000 of principal due the N. C. Literary fund. It can be perceived that a semi-annual diviend of 4 per cent is a fraction over 8 per cent per annum. A fine state of prosperity truly for a railroad. This road is excellently managed from the able and efficient agency of the President, through all the departments under him.

Since the establishment of the Journal and the W. & R. R. Road, Wilmington has improved beyond all prophecy. Railroads and staunch, high toned papers are the lever and fulcrum of success now-a-days.

The Journal says: "WILMINGTON & RALEIGH RAILROAD. We learn that the Board of Directors of this Road, at their regular meeting on Friday last, declared a dividend of 4 per cent. from the earnings of the Road for the last six months; and further ordered a payment of thirty-five thousand dollars to be made to the Literary Board on account of the principal debt of the Road. The financial condition of the Company is very favorable, and sound in every particular.

THE PROGRESS OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE NEW Custom Houses. In Bangor, Me., the foundations of their new custom house have been laid, and the superstructure is commenced. At Bath, Me., the foundations are being laid, and the quarymen are getting out the granite for the superstructure. At Wilmington, Delaware, the foundations are being laid, and the granite for the basement is being wrought. At Norfolk, Va., the work is in a situation identical with that at Wilmington, Del. At Charleston, S. C., most of the foundations have been laid, the granite for the basement is out at the quarries, and a portion of the superstructure have been commenced. At Mobile, the foundations have just been commenced, and they are getting out the granite for the basement. At New Orleans, much has been done this summer, considering the health of the city, double or thrice the number of hands being employed on the work in comparison with the number engaged on it during the preceding season. The work there is about one third finished.

At Louisville they are putting in the foundations. The contracts are not yet made for the proposed

WESTERN TOBACCO CROP. Extract from a letter dated Bowling Green, Ky., October 11th, from a gentleman now in the West to a commercial house n Baltimore: "Having now nearly finished my trip through the Tobacco growing regions of Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee, I come to the following conclusions as to this years crop, viz: 30,000 hhds. Kentucky and Tennessee, 10,000 do Missouri, Indiana, Illinois, &c., 6,000 do The quantity of old Tobacco, remaining on the Cumberland river is pretty well ascertained not to exceed 6,000 hhds., and on the Ohio 8,000 hhds; so that the entire receipts in 1854 of New Orleans, St. Louis and Louisville, must fall short of 60,000 hhds., as a good deal will be required for manufacturing purposes at home. This is a great falling off compared with the receipt of 75,000 hhds. in New Orleans alone this year, without including the receipts of St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, New York and other places.

THE STATE FAIR. From various sources, we learn that the Fair at Raleigh, was a highly creditable exhibition, exceeding the expectations of its projectors. As a first attempt it was more than successful. This is a favorable augury, and betokens good results in the future. It was not expected that the first Fair would be complete, or give general satisfaction. It was rather considered the commencement of better things to come hereafter-the beginning of an end, having for its object the development of the industrial resources of our State. Having succeeded in enlisting the interests of all engaged in securing the the glory of the State, we may expect every succeding exhibition to increase in value. Every exertion should be made to bring about this result. Wilmington Herald.

EARLY MARRIAGE. At a recent election in San Antonia, Texas, a Mexican "boy" attempted to vote, but from his youthful appearance his vote was challenged, and it was proven on oath that he was but thirteen years of age. The Ledger says that he has a wife and a child one year old, and for the sake of gratifying curiosity, the editor of that paper was led to consult a physician on the subject, and was assured that this "boy" could not have been exceeding eleven at the time of his marriage.

LONGEVITY OF QUAKERS. The late census returns in England reveal the singular fact, that the average age attained by this peaceful sect is fifty-one years, two months and twenty-one days, while half of the population of this country die before reaching the age of twenty-one, and the average duration of life, the world over, is but thirty-three years. The Quakers, therefore, live a third longer than the rest of us. Their temperance, prudence, plenty, want of passion, and general repose of character, are, undoubtedly, favourable to longevity.

You may have hot enemies without a friend; but not fervid friend without a bitter enemy. The qualities of your friends will be those of your enemies; cold friends, cold enemies; half friends, half enemies; fervid enemies, warm friends.

DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES AND PARTY POLICY. WE ! REPORTED DECLARATION OF WAR CONFIRMED. [Telegraphic from London to Liverpool.] SATURDAY MORNING, Oct. 8. The Times of this morning announces the arrival of the steamer Tancredi, from Constantinople at Marseilles, with a confirmation of the news that, on the 26th ult., the Sultan declared war against Russia.

A telegraphic dispatch from Vienna announces that the Porte had given the Russian Emperor four weeks in which to evacuate the Principalities, failing to do which hostilities would be commenced. THE ENGLISH CABINET. The session of the cabi-

A Paris correspondent states that a French force. now magnified into 30,000 strong, are held in readiness to embark for Constantinople. A corps of 18,000 was to be organized in the south of France to embark at Toulon, to reinforce the army at Rome. England, they say, was to furnish 10,000 men to be embarked at several of the Channel ports. It is added that the story may be discredited.

FURTHER FROM CONSTANTINOPLE. The Paris Constitutional is enabled to state, (probably by the aid of the Government,) the occurrences of the 25th and 26th ultimo, at Constantinople: "At the reiterated request of M, de Bruck, the internuncio of Austria, the Divan met on the 25th ultimo, to deliberate anew on the Vienna Note. The Divan was unanimous in deciding that the Porte could then, less than ever, in the presence of the interepretation given to that document by the Cabinet of St. Petersourg, accept it, without its having first received the modifications indicated by Reschid Pacha." It has been stated that the object of the journey of the monarchs of Russia and Austria to Warsaw was simply to strengthen the alliance already existing between Russia, Austria and Prussia, not only against all revolutionary movements, but also against any demonstrations that the Western Powers may possi

A letter writer from Olmutz says that the Emperor Nicholas paid particular attention to the French officers who were at Olmutz. Nicholas was said to have assured Gen. Guyon that he was most anxious to find an opportunity of making the personal acquaintance of Napoleon III., for whom he entertains the liveliest sympathies and the highest personal esteem for the services which in the Czar's opinions Napoleon has rendered to the cause of civilization. and for which not only France, but Europe, owes him a debt of gratitude. Lord Westmoreland, the English Minister, met with a different reception. Nicholas received him, when introduced, with frigid politeness, and with a cold "I am delighted," passed on. So say the court newsmen.

Arrival of the Black Warrior at Mobile-The Yellow Ferer-The Markets-Later from Texas. New ORLEANS, Oct. 19. The steamship Black Warrior has arrived at Mobile with Havana dates to the 16th inst. The yellow fever still prevailed at Mobile; there were 5 or 6 deaths daily. The first cargo of guano ever received at this port from the Chincha Islands arrived to-day, in the barque Salem. Cotton has declined a quarter to half a cent since the Atlantic's news, and the market is unsettled. Flour and corn have advanced.

A Hoosier's Description of a Dinner at the As-TOR HOUSE. I met upon the train an elderly Hooser, who had been to the show case exhibition at New York, and who had also seen the Hi-pod-ro me, as he

"Did you remain long in New York?" I asked

"Well, no," answered he thoughtfully, "only two days, for I saw there was a right smart chance of being starved to death, and I'm opposed to that way of going down. I put up at one of the taverns, and I allowed I was going to be treated to the whole." "Where did you stop?" said I, interrupting

"At the Ashtore House. I allow you don't ketch me to no such place agin. They rung a gone, as they called it, four times afore breakfast, and then, when I went in to eat, there warn't narry vittles on the table!"

"What was there?" I ventured to inquire. "Well," said the old man, enumerating the items cautiously, as if from fear of omission, "there was a clean plate, wrong side up-a knife, a clean towel, a split spoon, and a handbill! and what was worse, added my companion, "the insulting nigger up and asked me what I wanted; 'ritlles,' says I, bring in yer vittles and I'll help myself!"

EDWARD S. HANNEGAN. This "fallen star" seems determined, says the Chicago Democrat, to regain his lost respectability and usefulness. He is at present making temperance speeches in Indiana. At a temperance camp-meeting near Covington, he recently made a speech, of which we have the following account from the Covington Times:

"He spoke in the open air with all the fire, eloquence and beauty for which he has so long been justly celebrated. His voice was exceedingly full and clear. Mr. Hannegan took bold ground against, not merely the sale of intoxicating liquors, but also against the manufacture or importation within the imits of our State for any purpose whatever. He declared himself ready to vote for the Maine law, in the absence of any thing better, but expressed his belief that nothing short of a total extripation of the article from the face of the earth would effect the desired object. The splendid historical incidents and allusions with which the address abounded, and by which Mr. Hannegan enforced his arguments, greatly enhanced its beauty and effect, and were very characteristic of the speaker."

It was stated on good authority that Messrs. A. T. Stewart & Co., the celebrated dry goods firm, had purchased the Metropolitan Hotel for the round sum of $600,000, and they were to pay down in cash $400,000, leaving $200,000, on time. New York Herald.

Come and see the only living specimen in America of the Huge WHITE or POLAR BEAR—weighing 700 pounds, white as a snow drift, more ferocious than even the Tiger, and untameable as the Hyeria. This splendid and curious specimen in animated nature, excites attention and demands the interest of thousands of visitors, who throng to embrace the only operatinity it is likely they may ever have of beholding this terrible curiosity. His fur is from six to eight inches long, and combines the texture and appearances of the finest Lambs Wool, with the glossiness and softness of the richest silk.

Come and see the only living specimen in America of the Jet or Coal Black Indian TIGER—an animal se uncommon as to be of enormous value. Ancient Naturalists speak of the Black Tiger as existing more in immagination that reality, but modern enterprise and scientific research have not only proved the truth of his existence, but have produced a succimen of modern enterprise and scientific research have not only proved the truth of his existence, but have produced a specimen of his Genus, which, is to be found in this beautiful collection and nowhere eise—come and see him.

Come and see the great war Elephant Bolivar, weighing 14, 00 pounds, 11½ teet high, perfectly docile, and the best performing Elephant in the world. Bolivar was captured by the British from the Siahks, at the battle of the Panjaub, transported to England and sold to the late Earl of Berby, and at the demise of the Earl he was purchased for $15,000, and placed in this collection. Come and see the only specimen of the GRIZZLEY BEAR of California ever exhibited in the Southern country—an animal known but little to Naturalists until within the past few years. He is wonderfully ferodious, and attains so mon-strous a size, that they have already been imported weighing 1200 pounds. COME AND SEE THE KINGS AND QUEENS OF THE FOREST, The superb LIONS and LIONNESSES, attached to this establ shment. Young, freshly caged, full of life and attimas tion, they present a splendid natural spectacle.

Come and See The greatest variety of mischievious Monkeys and Babboons ever exhibited, full of tricks, grimace, as gility and fun—they are a perpetual source of amusement.

Come and See The wonderful nondescript, half Leopard and half Tiger—a huge animal with tremdons strength and

COME AND SEE The wonderful nondescript, half Leopard and half Tiger—a nuge an mat with tremdons strength and fierceness, presumed to be the only "lussus nature" of the kind in existence.

Come and See The beautiful and stately Alapacca of the East—the great bearded Syrian Camel of the desert, and the beautiful spotted Ocelot of Mexico and Teru—the sprightly Kannaroo, of New Holland, and the gotgeous South American and Arabian ostriches—the untamed striped and spotted Hyenas—the varied plumaged Gold and Silver Pheasants, the Adjutant or Fabled Stark—and be sure to come and see the BLACK AND WHITE SWANS, together with a host of other smaller specimens too numerous to mention.
